Information for Wedding Ceremony

Thank you for your interest in holding your wedding celebration at the grounds of Nan Tien Temple. Nan Tien Temple is a Chinese Buddhist Temple built in 1995 and located on 22 hectares of beautifully landscaped grounds.

Nan Tien Temple is one of the many branch temples of Fo Guang Shan Buddhist Order. It is the largest Buddhist Temple in the Southern Hemisphere. The Temple has adopted the Chinese palace building style, merging traditional and modern ideas together into perfect harmony. The combination of eastern and western culture brings special features and uniqueness of character into the architecture.

The Temple opens its doors from 9 am to 5 pm Tuesday till Sunday. It has become a new venue for local and international tourists and also acts as an important cultural and educational centre, bridging eastern and western cultures. Other than religious Shrines, the Temple also offers modern facilities such as Conference Room, Auditorium, large Dining Hall and Tea House to cater for our guests and special visitors.

The beautiful gardens, magnificent Shrines, lotus pond especially in summer, and lakes are available for wedding photography all year round.

For further information or to arrange an appointment to view the property, please call Nan Tien Temple reception on (02) 4272 0600 or email us at function@nantien.org.au

We look forward to making your special day a memorable occasion in the peaceful and magnificent surroundings of Nan Tien Temple.

With Best Wishes

Nan Tien Temple

WEDDING SERVICES

A wedding day is one of the most memorable days in life when couples join together in matrimonial harmony to love, honour and respect each other under the sanctity of Buddha.

Nan Tien Temple offers a tranquil and peaceful surrounding with beautifully landscaped gardens and unique style architecture of the Imperial Ming dynasty. Nan Tien Temple is an excellent choice to have your wedding celebrations.

Make your special day even more memorable by choosing the Temple Shrine or garden for holding your wedding ceremony and location shots.

THE CEREMONY

Nan Tien Temple offers a full Buddhist wedding service conducted by Reverends for couples who are ready to embark in a committed married life. The unique Buddhist tradition creates a gracious and auspicious atmosphere for the special occasion.

The ceremony will be held in the magnificent Great Compassion Shrine; a place where The Great Compassionate Kuan Yin Bodhisattva with Thousand Eyes and Hands is located. The unique characteristics will create everlasting memories for you and your guests.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Our well-designed landscaped garden will provide you with the perfect setting for your wedding photography. Most views are postcard-perfect. The architecture of this Chinese Buddhist temple and its surrounding garden will bring an air of creativity and Chan in every way. It is photography with a difference.

If you require morning or afternoon tea for your guests —there is a private dining room, which caters up to 80 guests. Small and large numbers can be catered for and we ensure you of a relaxing and wonderful day in beautiful surroundings.

BOOKINGS

For further information on wedding ceremony, photography or dining service requirements on your special day, please call Nan Tien Temple reception at (02) 4272 0600 or email us at function@nantien.org.au

Please also note that we do not encourage people to have their wedding celebration or photography during public holidays, especially Chinese Festival Days or Buddhist Holy Days. However, if you still want to choose these particular days as mentioned above, extra charges would apply.
