The Mitre Hotel & Bar was first established in 1815. With a wealth of history the building has survived two world wars and two bomb attacks the latest being in 1966. Although still standing proud today the physical impact still remains present with lopsided floors, walls and roofs which gives the building its true character and quirky identity.

The Mitre was famously known for housing captured prisoners in the cellars before they were lead down the tunnels to the hanging ditch, a landmark only a few feet away to be publicly hanged.

Today however we're well known for being one of Manchester's true hidden gems with our individual style & charming personality which compliments our historic reputation.

We bring you the finest gastro style British food alongside a range of award-winning ales, beers & hand selected wines, teamed with our relaxed atmosphere and first class service.

Not to mention our 49 bespoke rooms, each individually designed to give you that home away from home experience in the heart of the City.

Here at the Mitre Hotel & bar we welcome everyone with a warm mancanian smile, so please order at the bar, kick back & relax.
